← His Friends

Adam Bracket spends most of his days standing in front of a mirrors practicing his lines. He thinks to himself that he will never get it down perfect if he doesn't have someone to help him. All his friends are busy. :<

Adam's friend William(Billy) Bob Joe III of Ireland is upset that he can't be there for his friend Adam. He finds a new app that allows you to put in your schedule and find people to study with, or in Adam's case, listen to him rehearse his lines.

Billy races to tell Adam the great news. But he gets pulled over by a cop. He tells the cop about the app he found, and immediately gets a police escort to Adam.

Adam is shocked by Billy's arrival, but not as shocked as when he hears about the new app Billy has found.

Adam immediately downloads the app, and puts in his class schedule and study availability. He finds out that there is a group on campus that get together every week to practice their lines and give feedback.

Adam has found his people. He calls up Billy to thank him, and found out Billy was arrested for money laundering and tax fraud. At least Adam is happy.
